OUR HERITAGE

At the 1904 World's Fair in St. Louis, Missouri, the O'Connor brothers experienced something totally new: imported coffee beans roasted over a gas flame. The resulting flavor and aroma inspired the creation of Ronnoco Coffee Company. Our headquarters and plant are, to this day, located in St. Louis.

Because of our family owned history, we are small enough to pay attention to the details that go into making great coffee and tea, but large enough to stay on the cutting edge of the rapidly changing beverage world.

SINGLE ORIGIN COFFEE

Single origin coffee is on the rise and as a result, roasters are changing their approach to the craft. For years, darker roasts have been the most popular style among coffee drinkers, but that is changing. Roasting single origin coffees to a lighter degree highlights the unique flavors of each origin and territory.

Single origin coffees allow customers to travel the world with every sip and experience the variety of coffee flavors.

Acidity is an important characteristic of a high quality coffee and is affected by where the coffee is grown. Coffees from Africa are typically "brighter" with acidity, whereas coffees from pacific islands like Sumatra and Java have the lowest acidity and are typically "mellow." Coffees from Central and South America have medium acidity and are universally popular.

1904 Reserve Roast

Featuring roasts and blends from farms supported by the LIFT program. Ronnoco is committed to "building a better coffee world" by partnering with the LIFT program in providing funds towards protecting the environment and creating safer working conditions for farmers and better agricultural practices to increase productivity.

Ronnoco supports the LIFT program by sponsoring 20 farms in Central and South America.

Ronnoco's featured blend: 1904 Reserve Roast Light Roast.

ETHIOPIAN YIRGACHEFFE

Caramel and milk chocolate aroma with a sweet and spicy flavor. Smooth body with a mild acidity.

KENYA AA

Citrus notes of tangerine and grapefruit dance with a sparkling acidity and a dry, snappy finish.

GUATEMALA ESTATE

Sweet flavor notes of milk chocolate and toffee with a smooth body, lively acidity and a slightly dry finish.

Cold Brew vs. Iced Brew

Cold coffee is the fastest growing trend in coffee! A variety of new brewing methods means cold coffee is tasting better than ever and consumers are drinking more than ever!

Cold brew coffee is made by steeping coarsely ground coffee in water for 12-24 hours. Using cold water slows down the extraction process and changes the flavor profile, resulting in a smooth cup with low acidity that makes it great mixed with milk and other flavors.

Iced brew coffee uses a combination of hot water and ice to simultaneously extract flavor and cool the beverage down. It takes just 5 minutes to prepare and the resulting flavor profile is complex with similar flavor notes to hot coffee.

VITAMIN-INFUSED COFFEE

Today's consumer is on the hunt for healthier beverage options that still provide the energy and flavors they are used to. These "functional" beverages are enhanced with extra energy or healthy additives.

Coffee is already very healthy - brewed coffee is packed with antioxidants and caffeine can speed up your metabolism. But what if there was more?

By blending ground coffee with vitamins and minerals before brewing, consumers can now enjoy a delicious cup of coffee that is even more packed with vitamins and essential nutrients. Take your beverage game to the next level with vitamin and nutrient enhanced coffees.

FRENCH VANILLA
 CAPPUCCINO WITH PROTEIN

FRENCH VANILLA CAPPUCCINO WITH PROTEIN

With 12.5 grams of protein per 20 ounce serving, Ronnoco's French Vanilla Cappuccino with Protein is the perfect way to get your protein in, while enjoying a tasty beverage!

Why is protein so important?

- The body uses protein to build and repair tissue.
- Protein also makes hormones, enzymes, and other body chemicals.
- Protein is an important building block of bones, muscles, cartilage, skin, and blood.

Alternative Milks

Whether it be intolerances or just by pure choice, there are many reasons why one would opt for dairy-free alternative milks instead. Offering more options may soon be required.

- Types of alternative milk:
- Soy • Almond • Oat • Rice
 - Hemp • Coconut

FAIR TRADE

Fair Trade ensures that farmers and workers get a fair deal for their hard work. This means better prices and wages, safer working conditions, environmental protection, and additional Community Development Premiums to invest in much needed projects like education, health care, and clean water.

Fair Trade empowers farmers and workers to build strong businesses and thriving communities in these ways:

- Sets a minimum price to protect farmers when the coffee market is down
- Provides access to finance and agricultural loans
- Ensures safety on the farm

FAIR TRADE, RAINFOREST ALLIANCE, & ORGANIC COFFEE

RAINFOREST ALLIANCE

The Rainforest Alliance is a non-governmental organization that continues to work towards ensuring sustainable livelihoods by transforming land-use practices, business practices and consumer behavior.

Coffee with the green frog certification seal indicates that the coffee comes from a farm that has been audited to meet established standards for environmental, social, and economic sustainability.

ORGANIC

"USDA certified organic foods are grown and processed according to federal guidelines addressing, among many factors, soil quality, animal raising practices, pest and weed control, and use of additives. Organic producers rely on natural substances and physical, mechanical, or biologically based farming methods to the fullest extent possible." (USDA.gov)

FAST
FACT

Tea or tisane? tea is derived from the leaves of the camellia sinensis plant - an evergreen shrub native to Asia. Herbal teas are actually referred to as tisanes because they do not contain any leaves from the camellia sinensis plant. tisanes usually - but not always - have less caffeine than tea.
